HONOR FLAG

Won By Maysville to Be Unfurled With Appropriate Exercises Saturday.

LIBERTY LOAN HONOR FLAG

Now that Mason county has again demonstrated to Uncle Sam she means to support him in winning the war, re desires to express his appreciation of the support we gave him in the third Liberty Loan by presenting us an Honor Flag.

This flag will arrive in a day or so and at 1:15 Saturday afternoon appropriate flag raising exercises will take place on Market street.

The committee is especially anxious that a good representation shall be in town from the country as this honor flag is the result of the united effort of the citizens of Mason county. One of our prominent speakers will make an address.

The bankers throughout the county deserve honorable mention for the enthusiastic manner in which they supported the committee during the entire campaign.

Mr. M. M. Rhodes of Fleming county, was here yesterday on his way to Brown county, Ohio, where he and his brother, Banker Charles Rhodes, have purchased a large farm. He says they expect to put out fort acres of tobacco this season, provided they can get the help. The balance of the farm will be devoted to foodstuffs.

GERMANS CONTINUE MIGHTY EFFORT TO BREAK ALLIED LINES

FRENCH NOT ONLY HOLD HUNS BUT ARE ABLE TO RECAPTURE TERRITORY

Loere, Which Fell Into Enemy's Hands Late Monday Is Regained by the French in Dashing Counter Drive — Allied Lines in Flanders Hold Firm Under Heavy Blow of Hun Hordes.

With the British Army in France, April 30—Further desperate smashes by Von Arnim's army against the Allied lines on the Flanders battlefield yesterday afternoon and evening met with no more success than the enemy's futile and costly attempts earlier in the day to break through and capture the hill positions west of Kemmel.

Not only did the British and French maintain their positions at virtually all parts in the face of furious onslaughts, but during the night they reclaimed several bits of territory on which the enemy had succeeded in getting a hold.

Loere had again fallen into German hands, late yesterday, but the French once more made a dashing counter drive, and thrust the enemy out of this important place.

The Allied lines in Flanders this morning were to all intents the same as when the Germans surged forward yesterday and in front of the defending positions gray uniformed men lay in great numbers, representing the awful price paid by the Germans.

North of Kemmel the British and French, countering in conjunction, also pushed forward somewhat during the night and bettered their positions. At one time yesterday the Germans actually had some men on the lower slopes of both Mont Rouge and the Scherpenberg, after they had succeeded in driving a small wedge into the French line between these two elevations.

Fierce fighting about Loere all day, and the enemy sacrificed great numbers of men in an attempt to push through here.

In the meantime the flanks were holding brilliantly against successive shocks. A particularly bitter battle was waged astride the Kemmel-Le Clytte highway near the junction of the French and British. Here the enemy tried his favorite trick of dividing the two forces, but he found no weak spots.

At ridge wood, west of Voormezele, heavy fighting also continued throughout the day, the Germans losing great numbers of men, both killed and wounded. It is impossible to say how many attacks the enemy made at this point during the course of the day; they came forward in waves throughout long hours. There was no cessation of the terrible battle. The wonder is that the Allied troops were able to hold in the face of such onslaughts by superior numbers.

The German artillery, which has been greatly augmented for this attack pounded the back area incessantly, and the duel between the opposing guns of all calibres from Saturday until last evening was appalling.

The British improved their position slightly before Villers-Bretonneux. The enemy artillery was very active in this region, and the enemy guns were increasingly busy from Vimy northward.

Thus far the German capture of Kemmel has done them little good, for the Allied artillery has kept the crest of the hill so smothered with shell fire that it has been impossible for the enemy to occupy it in force.

This morning the Allied lines in Flanders were to all intents the same as when the Germans surged forward yesterday.

Things looked critical but the French counter attack determined and re-established virtually all the old positions.

The artillery was increasingly busy from Vimy northward.

ADVANCE IN SALARY

To Be Given to Maysville Public School Teachers Next Year—Important Meeting of the Board of Education Held Last Night — Davis Library Fund to Be Invested in Liberty Bonds.

The regular monthly meeting of the City Board of Education was held last night in the Superintendent's office in the High School building and transacted some very important business.

The main business of the evening was the election of teachers for the ensuing term. The present faculty remains unchanged with the following exceptions:

Miss Elsie Heller of the Latin Department resigned to take up Y. W. C. A. work.

Miss Florence Shaw of the English Department and Miss Frances Geisel, domestic science teacher, resigned to accept other positions.

Mr. George Noel, mathematics teacher, resigned to enter the military service.

Miss Lela Gray, teacher of the third and fourth grades in the Forest Avenue School, resigned and Miss Flossie Jones, of this city, who has been teaching in the county, was elected to fill her place. The other vacancies have not been filled.

A motion was made by Member Calvert to renew the teaching of the fifth and sixth grades in the Sixth Ward but was rejected by the board because of the small number of pupils in these grades in that ward.

Because of the increased cost of living the board decided to increase the salaries of the teachers next year twenty per cent.

On motion of Member Matthews it was ordered that the Thomas A. Davis Library Fund, which is now invested in two $1,000 mortgage bonds, be invested in Liberty Bonds. The disposition of the old bonds and the purchasing of the Liberty Bonds was left in the hands of the Finance Committee.

Dr. Benjamin Jay Bush, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Lexington, Ky., was chosen by the board to deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the 1918 graduating class on Sunday evening, June 8.

For the past four years it has been the custom to select six students from the graduating class to speak at the commencement but it was decided that this year the old custom be changed and Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the University of Kentucky, will make the commencement address this year. Dr. McVey is an educator and orator of note and it will be a great privilege to the people of Maysville and vicinity to hear him.

The Misses Quaintance are now showing a choice line of imported cretonnes for pillows, draperies, etc., at THE ART SHOP.

The John Deere Corn Drill

This is a new and up to date drill with double disc openers. It is equipped with the Deere edge-selection drop and has new tip-over hopper, exactly like the New Deere Corn Planter. The seed plates are driven by a set of strong bevel gears and pinions.

There are three rows of teeth on the drive wheel, giving three drilling distances for each seed plate. The drive wheel is built with an improved form of traction lug, lugs being extended on each side of rim of wheel, so as to secure a good grip on the ground and at the same time be self-cleaning.

Disc openers are shaped with a double curve so as to offer the least resistance in opening a furrow. They are provided with ample bearings, which are readily oiled.

Polished steel counter covers are used. These are provided with a number of holes to secure the desired slant to cover properly under varying conditions.

An adjustable gauge or pressure wheel with concave rim can be furnished on special order at additional price.

The seeding mechanism is thrown in and out of gear by means of a hand-tappet on right handle-grip.

BLOCK-BY-BLOCK SYSTEM IS A SUCCESS IN KANSAS CITY

The Chamber of Commerce of Kansas City, Kan., has found that the work incident to the successful conduct of war campaign is greatly minimized by the block-by-block plan of canvassing which the Chamber is now using. The work is done by the masses instead of by a comparatively few of the busiest professional and business men and the entire city of about 100,000 population can be canvassed in one or two days even more completely than was possible under the old system which required from one to two weeks.

The block-by-block organization is not greatly unlike that of a well planned political organization. The city is separated into three divisions each division into three or four sections, each section into groups and each group into from six to a dozen blocks. Those in charge of the divisions are called majors. The majors appoint section captains, the captains appoint section lieutenants and the lieutenants name the block sergeants. To those ranking above the sergeants is assigned the work of organizing the campaign and to the sergeants is assigned the work of canvassing each resident in the blocks of which they have charge. All the workers are supplied with badges.

The organization differs from that of a political body in that each group of blocks included parts of at least three precincts. By disregarding precinct boundaries the organization cannot be accused of being used for political or by politicians.

On the day designated each sergeant visits every home in the block to which he is assigned. With the work in the hands of 1,600 workers one man to each block canvassing requires only a few hours and the burden is lifted from the shoulders of the few individuals who are usually responsible for the success of such undertakings. Campaigns participated in by only 200 persons require a week's time in addition to the week which it takes to organize the move-

The Chamber of Commerce formed this organization by first sending out an appeal for volunteers to help conduct war campaigns and then mailed return post cards to those who responded favorably asking them to send in the names and addresses of others who they believed would be willing to give their services for such work. The organization is a permanent one, available for use during the period of the war. Now that it is organized the workers need only to be informed that work is to be done and when. The officers of the Chamber of Commerce are confident that all the war work activities hereafter undertaken by the Chamber of Commerce will be conducted more quickly and successfully by this method than ever before. The statement is justified in the light of the Chamber's experience with such campaigns in the past, even those which are conducted by the old method, which have all gone "over the top."

BUY LIBERTY BONDS

From 8,500 billboards throughout the United States this picture on a huge twenty-four sheet poster exhorts the public to make our soldiers' dream of victory come true. The figure of the sleeping soldier is in khaki color, forming a vivid contrast to the cold greenish representation of No Man's Land in the background. That portion of the poster which portrays his dream of victory—his comrades marching home joyously bearing the laurels that they have won in the trenches—is full of life and action and well represents the state of mind that must come to the victorious soldier.

McAdoo's Plea for the Bonds

ABOVE is a photostatic reproduction of a statement written by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo for the movies in connection with the Third Liberty Loan campaign. This plea is being flashed to motion picture theaters all over the country during this month. It is a statement full of feeling and calculated to arouse in the most callous person a desire to do his duty by the boys "over there."

AMERICA WILL SETTLE PRESENT WORLD'S WAR

Liberty Loan Bond in American Hands is Most Effective Weapon.

Before the United States entered the war the conflict may have been one for Europeans to settle, with the future of the world depending upon the results. But since America declared war it has become distinctly our war.

It no longer is England's war, or

France's war, but America's war—the war of all the nations associated to defeat German autocracy, which seeks to dominate and enslave the world.

The best way to support the war is to buy a Liberty Bond while the brave boys are at the front fighting for you and for your home and for everything sacred.

Many have wailed: "The war's not run right! 'S all wrong!" Now's their chance to help run it. Let 'em buy Liberty Bonds.

Utah's Anti-Mormon Governor Is Banner Booster of Bonds

THERE is no more democratic booster of the sale of bonds for Democracy than Governor Simon Bamberger of Utah who has been touring the middle west in the interests of the Third Loan.

The hale executive is the embodiment of Americanism despite the fact that he was born in Germany. And because he was born in Germany he knows what he is talking about when he urges Americans to rid the world of the yoke of kaiserism.

"Yes, I was born in Germany," says the governor. "I was born there but when I was 14 years old I came to America. And I'm glad I came."

"I'm glad, too, to get a chance to urge as many Americans as I can to buy Liberty Bonds and do everything in their power to keep the Hun away from our shores—to wipe the Hun off the face of the earth, because I have seen what the German peoples have had to put up with in the years gone by and as sure as the United States does not end the rule of the kaiser we here in America will have to plane our lives down to that same scale."

In his speeches Governor Bamberger emphasizes the fact that in Germany the lands and fortunes of the people have been practically seized by the government. He says that property belongs to the government and the alleged owners are only custodians or caretakers.

Governor Bamberger is a national figure as the first Jewish governor of Utah.

JUST EATING CASH WON'T GIVE 'EM DASH

We're printing bonds and savings-stamps and other forms of credit. It takes spot cash to build our camps, and we're the folks to spread it. It takes a lot of ready dough to buy our shells and rifles, and we must go ahead and show that millions rank as trues. To pay for ships and motor trucks we shell out and deliver. We raise another billion bucks without a single quiver. Your Uncle Sam has shown before that he was willing lender, but now that war has reached our shore he's just as good a spender. He doesn't halt nor hesitate, but digs into his treasure, and hands it out at rapid rate that no one man can measure. But after all it's more than cash our fighting men are needing. They need the vim and pep and dash that come from ample feeding. They cannot itself, by slicing or by carving, and all our gold and silver pelf won't keep the boys from starving. We've got to give 'em solid grub—the that once within you will make you fit for warfare's rub, by building bone and sinew. We've got to hustle, you and I to help preserve the nation. We must increase the food supply, and thus prevent starvation. So let's get out in our back yards, with spade and hoe and shovel. Let's all become home garden guards, and make the German grovel. Let's be as busy as the bee, who works to make our honey. Come on outside and dig with me for stuff worth more than money. Write the National War Garden Commission, Washington, D. C., for its complete manual on home gardening. It's free for 2-cent stamp for postage.

FORMER LEADERS MISSING

(Washington Post)
The visitor to Washington a quarter of a century ago, or even 15 years ago, was impressed with the number of big men in the Senate," remarked Oscar A. Hayden, of Chicago, for many years a frequent visitor to Washington, at the Willard. "I notice that former Senator Burton, who, by the way, was a man of extraordinary ability, recently gave a dinner to some 15 former members of the Senate, and when one goes through the list of names he regrets that these gentlemen are not still members of that body. There were Chauncey M. Depew, Spooner, Crane of Massachusetts, Oliver of Pennsylvania, O'Gorman, Sutherland, Beveridge and Bailey among the guests all men of such strength when they were serving in the Senate."

"I know it is true that one is prone to criticize the men and conditions of the present, but it does seem that there are not the same strong men in Congress today that there were 20 years ago. We have not many outstanding figures in either house. One can count them on one hand. I am afraid that the future will not bring any better men, however, for under the plan of electing Senators by direct vote almost any person with a fad and a good gift of gab can be elected. Perhaps the war will cause the electorate of the nation to think more deeply hereafter, and there may be some hope that the voters will discriminate. For my part, I wish the old plan of having legislatures choose Senators was still in vogue."

THE SPY

(W. J. Bryan in the Commoner)
The German spy system has grown to be such a menace that the Government is preparing to deal with it with a stern hand. It should. The spy is the most wicked of all criminals, whether actuated by love of money or inspired by love of his country. He plots to kill without the hazards of open warfare. Availing himself of the protection of our country, and covering his scheming by deceit, he not only reveals our military plans, but, when possible, mutilates our machinery and paralyzes our efforts. Hundreds, even thousands, of lives may be sacrificed as a result of his activities.

Take, for instance, the spy work in the airplane factory. It was found that enemies, employed and working alongside of patriots, were substituting defective parts for sound parts so that aviators would fall to their death and our Government would lose the value of their services at critical times.

If any one deserves a death sentence surely it is the spy. No tears should be shed; no mercy can be shown. In war life is staked against life, and the death least to be regretted is the death of the spy.

Satan will have a fine bunch of volunteer stokers, mostly Huns, when the Kaiser finally shows up.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. ## BRADY-DODDS RECITAL

Given at Third Street M. E. Church
Last Evening Was Much Enjoyed.

The Third Street M. E. Church was filled last evening with the best and most highly cultured people of our city to hear the recital given by Miss Brady of Union College and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dodds. The entertainment given was of the highest class and was thoroughly appreciated by the entire audience. It is not too much to say that it was the equal to any of the lyceum. It is not too much to say that it was the equal to any of the lyceum or chautauqua numbers given in our city. Miss Brady who gave the readings is both charming in appearance and pleasing in manner. The selections given by her were such as would appeal to such an audience as heard her. As to the musical numbers given by Mr. and Mrs. Dodds, too much cannot be said in praise of them. Maysville audiences have heard them in many sorts of meetings singing songs of religious or patriotic sentiment but we believe this was the first time they have appeared in a high class musical recital. It gave our people a real chance to see just what musical artists we have in our midst. They were accompanied by Miss Stella Archdeacon, a musician of our own and who performed her part in such a pleasing manner as to add greatly to the success of the recital. Such an entertainment is well worth while. Those who missed it will never know what an opportunity they have let pass to hear a truly great entertainment.

Much of the success of the entertainment was due to boosting and advertising done by Mrs. Oral James who sold eighty-nine tickets and came in for ten dollars in gold, reward for the best ticket seller.

Evangelist Hobbs and Pastor J. J. Dickey closed their meeting at Second M. E. Church, South, last night after nineteen days of continuance. The meeting was well attended and Evangelist Hobbs gave his audience much to think about. He is a bold, fearless and able teacher. His sermons are replete with scripture quotations and striking illustrations. His audiences never tire. He left for his home in Louisville this morning over the C. & O. train for a few days rest. Next Sunday he begins a meeting at Zion, Fleming county, where he assists Rev. J. F. Ruggles of this city, who is pastor of the M. E. Church at that place. Mr. Hobbs was pleased with the sum he received for his services.
